

SC2020

LTE Femtocell Access Point for Residential

Benefits to Users and Operators

- An easy way for operators to offload surging smart phone traffic in a residential environment
- A cost effective solution for residential deployment
- Self-organizing femtocell technology reduces deployment and management costs
- Improved mobile service coverage and capacity in home environment
- Enhanced battery life on the end user's mobile phones
- Smart Radio technology ensures zero-touch and minimal macro interference

The SC2020, LTE Residential Femtocell Access Point (FAP) is a standalone LTE femtocell with up to 8/16 active users. Its designed to allow users to receive better mobile service coverage and capacity in the home with IPsec as secured backhaul through any broadband internet connection to a mobile service provider.